

- 23 Methylcyclopentane can react with chlorine via free radical substitution to produce compound A and B as shown.

Given the relative rate of substitution of tertiary and primary hydrogen atoms follows a 5 : 1 ratio.

What is the likely ratio of compound A and B formed?

- A 1 : 15
- B 1 : 3
- C 3 : 5
- D 5 : 3