

- 10 The nitride ion, N^{3-} , is usually found in compounds used for hard, heat-resistant materials, while the azide ion, N_3^- , is found in compounds that are used in airbags.

Which compound has the least negative value for lattice energy?

- A magnesium azide
- B magnesium nitride
- C sodium azide
- D sodium nitride