

27 Which statement about the anodising of an aluminium object is correct?

- A The aluminium object is placed at the cathode.
- B Water is reduced at the cathode to produce H_2 gas.
- C Anodising increases the thickness of the aluminium layer of the object.
- D A current of 3.2 A is required to form 0.01 mol of coating on the object for 30 minutes.