

21 Le Chatelier's Principle is used to deduce the effect of certain changes on equilibria reactions.

If all equilibria reactions are considered, which types of change does Le Chatelier's Principle apply to?

- A changes to concentration, pressure and temperature
- B changes to concentration and pressure but not temperature
- C changes to concentration and temperature but not pressure
- D changes to pressure and temperature but not concentration